Editorial Comments.

Woodrow Wilson's bride has typhoid fever.

The delay brought Delano for the Federal Board.

France goes in with an eye on Alsace and Lorraine.

By-the-way, how many rats were caught in New Orleans yesterday.

Campton, Ky., is in a fever of excitement over its first automobile.

President Wilson has warned all army and navy officers to keep their mouths shut.

All details for the peaceful surrender of Mexico City are being worked out.

Good thing Teddy is not in the White House now. He would have us mixed up in it and on the wrong side at that.

Now that he has embroiled himself with all Europe and part of Asia, it is now up to the Kaiser to show what "Me and god" can do.

Poor little Belgium, trying to be neutral, is again the battlefield of nations. Ninety-nine years ago it was Waterloo. This time it is Liege.

The Kaiser's movement against Paris was stopped at the Belgian boundary. The battle of Liege must be won before he can even get out of Germany.

The English nation has flopped together in universal accord. Even the Irish press joins in and the suffragettes have agreed to be good until Germany is licked.

When war was declared Germany had 2,000 German steamships and 3,000 sailing vessels on the high seas. England is busy picking them up before they even know that war has been declared.

Germany continues to bluff and threatens Italy with war unless she helps Germany and Austria. William could confer no greater favor on Italy than to line her up with the winning side.

Max Hanbery is once more in the limelight, as the Progressive nominee for Congress in the First district. Max was once initiated into the Democratic party, but didn't stay long.

Beckham ran 50 votes ahead of Stanley in Trigg county. Beckham beat McCreary 26 votes in the town of Cadiz. The county vote in full was Beckham 350, Stanley 320 and McCreary 164. Camden had more votes than both of his opponents.

The Germans are our friends and there is no feeling in America against Germany, but the whole world realizes that the Kaiser has provoked a war of nations without just cause. It is a war in which there can be but one logical outcome, the utter defeat and probable dismemberment of the great German Empire.

The Bowling Green Messenger, after opposing Stanley for Senator, now wants to kick him upstairs into the Cabinet. Here is its suggestion: "There is a place about to become vacant in the president's cabinet which Mr. Stanley could fill with distinction. It is generally understood that Attorney-General McReynolds will be selected to a vacancy on the supreme court bench. This would make the attorney-generalship vacant. What would be more fitting than that this place should be offered to Hon. A. O. Stanley, of Kentucky? He is eminently qualified for the position. He is able, brave, honest and courageous. His services in public life have shown that he stands for the interests of the great common people. Let the president recognize his merit and promote Stanley to this place. . . . The Messenger, of its own motion, and without consulting the wishes of anybody, makes the suggestion of the name of Hon. A. O. Stanley for attorney-general of the United States. Such action by the president would do more to unify the party here than any act could do.

NATIONS IN DEATH STRUGGLE ON LAND AND ON WATER

England's Ships Reported to Be Driving German Opponents Towards Dutch Coast—Admiralty Silent on Details of Engagement.

BATTLE STILL RAGES AROUND LIEGE.

Belgians Make Determined Resistance to Invaders—British Cruiser Sunk by Striking Mine—Russian Cavalry Defeated.

London, Aug. 7.—Europe waits with tense interest the outcome of two battles now being waged in the struggle of the nations.

If the report is to be credited, the British and German fleets are engaged in a combat on the high seas, which likely will have an important bearing on the conflict.

The German army of the Meuse, in its advance through Belgium, is meeting with determined resistance from the Belgian forces. On Wednesday, Brussels reports declared the Germans had been repulsed all along the line, but yesterday the attack was renewed with greater energy and probably with considerable reinforcements on the German side.

It is not to be forgotten, however, that all news and reports respecting both land and sea operations have come through French and British sources, or sources in control of or sympathy with them. Germany's version of what has transpired is not been received and therefore the story has only been half told. Under existing conditions of communications it will be long before the progress of the German army can be recounted to the outside world.

The same applies to movements of the Austria-Hungarian army, small detachments of which are operating against Serbia and the remainder doubtless are being sent to check the Russian advance. Beyond the declaration of war by Austria on Russia yesterday, little is known of what action Austria is taking, and only meager details have filtered through of the Austrian army's operations.

Latest In Brief.

Austria-Hungary on Thursday formally declared war on Russia.

The German Consul at Sunderland, Eng., has been arrested on charges not divulged.

France's great army has been placed under the supreme command of Gen. Jos. Joffre. French military men express full confidence in his skill.

Gen. Joffre is 62 years old. He was trained as an engineer, and while on duty in Madagascar, constructed the harbor of Diego Suarez, the principal one in the island.

A moratorium has been decided on in London—an extension of the period in which debts may be paid.

The Hamburg-American liners Kronprinzessin Cecilie and the Prince Adelbert, lying at the seaport of Falmouth, England, have been seized by the government. The British cruiser Diana brought the German schooner Else from Rio Grande into Falmouth.

The Mauretania, the big English liner, has reached Halifax safely with 2,400 passengers, closely pursued by German cruisers. The passengers were kept in ignorance of war news.

BRITISH CRUISER SUNK

Strikes Mine Laid by Ill-Fated German Ship.

London Aug. 7.—An admiralty report says the British cruiser Amphion was sunk yesterday by striking a mine. Paymaster J. T. Gedge and 130 men were lost. The captain and sixteen officers were saved. A previous report said the German mine layer, Koenigin Luise, probably had placed some mines before she was sunk by the British torpedo boat Lance. The Amphion was a light cruiser of 340 tons.

CARBAJAL WILL YIELD

Federals Agree To Surrender To Rebel's Without Resistance.

FULL AGREEMENT REACHED.

Amnesty Probably Will Be Declared Soon—Proclamation Issued.

Mexico City, Aug. 7.—Provisional President Carbajal and Gen. Venustiano Carranza, head of the Constitutional government, have reached a full agreement concerning the turning over of the government to the Constitutionalists. It is expected that a general amnesty will be declared at an early date. Hostilities were suspended today.

At the close of a conference between President Carbajal and Gen. Velasco, the Minister of War, early this afternoon, the official announcement was made that Carranza would grant the President's request concerning guarantees, and that a peace pact probably would be ratified at a cabinet meeting to be held soon.

President Carbajal and Gen. Velasco began their conference at noon today and discussed the question whether it would be better to turn over the capital to the Constitutionalists unconditionally or resist their entry by force of arms. In political circles it was declared that Gen. Velasco was in favor of meeting Carranza's demand to evacuate the city.

A proclamation by Gen. Robles and Gen. Dominguez, personal representatives of Carranza was published in all the morning newspapers today and created a good impression. The document guaranteed the peaceful entry of the conquering army.

EACH SINKS OTHER

Report of Disaster to Russian And German Cruisers.

London, Aug. 6.—3:37 p. m.—A dispatch to the London Daily Mail from Tien Tsin says that the Russian cruiser Askold and the German cruiser Emden both have been sunk, after an engagement off Weihaiwei, China.

The Emden was a protected cruiser of 3,592 tons. She carried ten 4.5-inch guns and was fitted with two torpedo tubes. The displacement of the Askold was 3,905 tons. Her armament consisted of twelve six-inch guns, twelve three-inch guns, and eight three-pounders. After the battle of the yellow sea, in the Russo-Japanese war, she was interned at Shanghai.

RUSSIANS REPULSED

Unsuccessful Effort to Break Through German Guard.

Berlin, via Amsterdam and London, Aug. 7.—The force of Russian cavalry which tried to break through the German frontier guard was repulsed near Sidaun, in East Prussia. Another Russian cavalry division also suffered losses and is retreating in the vicinity of Nedenburg.

DEATH CALLS FIRST LADY

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson Breathes Last At White House—Brave Fight.

THE PRESIDENT IS UNNERVED.

End Came While Unconscious—Touching Scenes In Last Hours.

Washington, Aug. 7.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the President of the United States, died at the White House at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Death came after a brave struggle of months against Bright's disease with complications.

The President was completely unnerved by the shock and his grief was heart-rending. He bore up well under the strain, however, and devoted himself to his daughters.

Funeral arrangements have not been made. The place of burial will be either Rome, Ga., where Mrs. Wilson once lived, or Princeton, N. J., where the family lived for 25 years.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, nee Miss Ellen Louise Axson, was born in Savannah, Ga. She was the daughter of Rev. Edward and Margaret J. Axson. She received her earlier education in private schools at Rome and Savannah, Ga., and later studied at the Art Students' league in New York. She was married to President Wilson at Savannah, June 24, 1885.

She was considered one of the radiant beauties of the South at the time of her marriage, and was extremely popular both in Savannah and Rome, Ga., where she spent a number of years.

The year of the Wilson-Axson union synchronized with Mr. Wilson's acceptance of a professorship in Bryn Mawr college, where, as the wife of the young educator, Mrs. Wilson attracted much attention by her ready wit and her faculty for charming conversation. She had large brown eyes, her features were small and regular and her head was crowned with a wealth of waving brown hair.

Three daughters were born to the union: Margaret Woodrow, the eldest; Jessie Woodrow and Eleanor Randolph, all girls of high accomplishments.

RESIDENCE DESTROYED

Home of Clarence O'Neal On Crescent Street Burned Thursday Morning.

About 2 o'clock Thursday morning, the home of Clarence O'Neal, colored, on Crescent street, a barber at Penn's Barber Shop, caught fire from an unknown source.

The roof and upper part of the framework was entirely destroyed and practically all the contents were lost with the exception of the kitchen furnishings. O'Neal and his wife had a narrow escape in getting out of the house.

The loss is estimated at about $900. There was $500 insurance on the house and $400 on the contents.

THOMPSON BREAKS ALTITUDE RECORD.

In Kansas City Thursday, De Lloyd Thompson, of Chicago, sailing in an American aeroplane, broke the American altitude record by rising to the height of 15,600 ft. above the earth's surface.

The previous record was 11,250 feet, made by Lincoln Beachy at Chicago in 1913.

Thompson has flown in Hopkinsville several times, having been here in the interest of C. O. Prowse's aeroplane. He is a young man and a daring birdman. Mr. Thompson has many friends here who are delighted to hear of his success. The editor of the Kentuckian made a trip with Thompson two years ago, but he didn't go that high.

AUTOMOBILE TURNS OVER

From a Blowout And Three Occupants Have Close Call.

DR. T. P. ALLEN AND WIFE

Seriously Injured and Logan Keatts Sustains Painful Bruises.

Wednesday afternoon about two o'clock, Dr. and Mrs. T. P. Allen and Logan Keatts, of Pembroke, were in an automobile accident about a mile and a half outside of Pembroke. The parties were riding in Dr. Allen's car with Mr. Keatts driving. The car had a blowout and upset on the side of the road. It turned over twice and as a result the occupants were thrown on the road.

All three were unconscious for a short while until Guy Dority happened to pass by and saw them. He immediately took them to their homes.

Dr. Allen's head was badly cut and his knee and chin were injured. Mrs. Allen had her collar bone broken by the fall. Mr. Keatts received several small cuts and bruises, but was not severely injured.

The car was badly torn up; the wind shield broken, and the top entirely ruined.

FRANCHISE RATIFIED

Interurban Railway Line Looks Good To Fiscal Court At Present.

At the meeting of the Fiscal court on Tuesday, the sale of a county franchise providing for interurban lines in this county to R. E. Cooper, for $28, was formally ratified. This ratification was made by the court unanimously and did not require any discussion.

Another item of interest was the appropriation of $250 to be paid the Pennyroyal fair and used in offering premiums on Christian county products. This will help materially in swelling the prize list and encouraging exhibits of county products.

County Clerk Harris was authorized at this meeting to borrow $5,000 and to issue an interest bearing warrant to cover it. This was done in order to tide over the present shortage until taxes begin to come in more freely.

Steel joists were ordered to be bought for the bridge near Julien.

The contract for six or eight hundred yards of new pike on the Cox mill road, near the E. D. Jones place, was let to C. G. Duke at $1.15 per lineal yard.

The expenses of the primary election last Saturday as well as a number of other claims, were allowed.

Dr. Hatcher and family have moved from Nashville to Cerulean and are living for the present with Judge P. Turney, father of Mrs. Hatcher.

The Kentuckian's Big Contest closes one week from to-night, and one Ford touring car, or $500 in cash and ten trips to Mammoth Cave will be awarded to the winners of the eleven prizes.

The lady winning the capital prize may take the Ford touring car or $500 in cash, just as she prefers.

Full details of the closing of the contest will be published in the next Tuesday issue.

The last count of ballots to be made by the Contest Manager will be made Monday at noon and the results published in the Tuesday issue. All ballots counted by the Contest Manager will be reserved until Tuesday night, and any contestant who desires to verify the correctness of the votes that have been counted by the Contest Manager, may do so, by calling this office any time up to Tuesday, Aug. 11, at 6 p. m. These ballots will be destroyed after that hour.

Mrs. Chas. F. Shelton, of the city, entered the contest yesterday and claims she starts in with the determination to win the capital prize. "If I don't get the capital prize, I will sure get a trip," said Mrs. Shelton, "but I'm after the auto."

Miss Lorena Shelton, of near Crofton, leads all contestants in the count of ballots made yesterday. Who will lead in the next and last count remains to be seen. It's lively times from now until the finish and most any one is likely to jump to leadership at any time.

The extra vote offer for this week of 65,000 extra votes with each club of $40, closes to-night. Those who hope to win should secure several of these big extra vote coupons. Take advantage of this opportunity to secure a big lot of votes, and place yourself in a position to make a winning fight, on Saturday night August 15th.

HAS NOT RESIGNED

Rev. J. C. Tate Says A Report Is Without Ground.

Rev. J. C. Tate, of Clarksville, who is a pastor of the Presbyterian church at Newstead, asks that denial be given to a rumor that he has resigned the charge of his church to take effect Oct. 1. He says there is no ground for the report. The rumor had not been current in this county, so far as known.

All Arranged.

Provisional President Carbajal and Carranza have reached an agreement on the surrender of Mexico City to the Constitutionalists. Villalva also agreed to peace without consulting Carranza.

Good Luck or Hard Work?

The question of failure or success is such a wide one that the majority of people merely touch on it and attribute their condition to luck. Do you know what successful men say about luck? They scoff at it, declaring that good luck is another name for hard work, which rarely fails to bring rewards. Evading one's responsibilities or passing over opportunities means a bad mess of life, no matter what name you tack to it. Want of forethought is something for which each person is responsible, and it keeps many a man providing properly for his family and deprives good men of helpmates they expect to have in the women they marry.

NOT AT ALL.

"Are your friend's habits abstemious?"
"Oh, no, sir, not a bit of it! He never takes a 'drop.'"

GOOD WORD.

"How do you like my girl's execution on the piano?"
"Execution did you say? It's killing!"

A WEIGH OF VERACITY.

"How did Mand's teacher find out she had not been practising her music?"
"Her scales gave her away."

LIGHT ON DEEP SUBJECT

Observations of Dutch Biologist Are Accounted of Much Importance by Scientists.A great controversy that has raged for years in the philosophical world has almost been brought to an end by a discovery of Vries, the great Dutch biologist. Darwin's theory of evolution supposed that it took ages and ages for the slightest variation in species. In fact, according to his theory, so many years would have had to elapse since the beginning of organic life that most thinking men could not accept it. The age of the earth has been calculated by geologists from the aspects of different strata and from fossils very accurately for such a difficult problem.
If a person accepted the word of the geologists he could not accept the theory of Darwin.Vries found out that what is called "spontaneous variation" could be much greater than was at first supposed. He called this rapid spontaneous variation "mutation." Now, spontaneous variation is that variation that takes place in plants or animals in one or two generations.
In other words, it is the observed difference between certain offspring and their parents or grandparents.
It was found that a change of climate or environment would cause a very great variation in one generation. He found this especially so in plants. So now one can accept Darwin's modified theory and the theory of the geologists in respect to the age of the earth at one and the same time.

the Myers Deep and Shallow Well Pump, will cover any and all conditions that may arise in connection with elevating water, either by due to the Mechanism of the Cylinder which is the heart of a Pump. Without "efficiency"

Emergency Hint.

Persons falling out of aeroplanes will find it quite useless to depend upon any of the ordinary safety devices, antidotes, block systems, fire extinguishers, life preservers or other similar contrivances, for though all of them are perfectly good in their proper time and place, they do not meet this particular emergency. The only thing to do when convinced you are falling is to make a thorough examination of the underlying landscape. For this purpose it is often well to have handy a geological chart, or relief map. When you have thoroughly familiarized yourself with the topography of the approaching landscape, it is then perfectly simple, by two or three little bodily maneuvers, to pick out a relatively soft spot. If you have acted wisely in the matter, there is nothing more to do but lie
there and wait for help.—Life

HAD CONSIDERATION FOR OWL

Small Boy's Anxiety for Solemn Bird at Least Showed Possession of Kind Heart.

A fluffy little screech owl has taken up its abode among the gnarled branches of an old apple tree. On recent rainy days the owl has attracted fair-sized audiences of passers-by by crawling out from the hollow where it has its nest and spending hours in solemn contemplation of the curious ones below. Seated on a branch, the buff-colored owl stares downward with unwinking eyes, and when someone walks around the tree the owl slowly turns its head to follow every movement.

A little boy was walking around the tree when I happened along. The little chap walked around twice, and then suddenly stopped and started around in the opposite direction, soberly, almost anxiously, watching the little owl turn its head.

"I guess I'd better walk back," explained the boy, "because if I don't the little owl will twist its head right off."

THEN HE WENT

Mr. Bore—I never flatter. Miss Caustique—But you said one nice thing earlier in the evening. Mr. Bore—What was that? Miss Caustique—That you didn't have long to stay.

APPEARANCE OF MARS.

Should the planet Mars always appear round to the observer, or should it, like Venus, show only part of its circular disk? The planet presents a slightly "gibbous" appearance when it is in quadrature or nearly so, i. e., when it is about six hours away from the sun. As an extreme at such times, the loss of light would result in an illumination about equivalent to that of the moon when three days away from full. When the planet is in opposition, it is of course fully illuminated, and at other times its phase, as given above, is not very noticeable.

OF THE SAME OPINION.

"Why, some of these men in office get big salaries and do absolutely nothing," said the woman who wanted the vote.

"Well, I believe women should be paid the same salaries as men for the same work," replied her sister with the orange hair.

THE CONSOLATION.

"There is one consolation in being lonely," she said.

"And what's that?"

"Nearly all the other women are willing to concede that I am sensible and will make a good wife for some man."

A BLACKSTONE.

Constable—Your honor, I've arrested Pat McGinnis for allowing his goat to sleep on the high school porch every night.

Magistrate—With what did you charge him?

Constable—Kidnaping.

USED AS A "TURN."

Mrs. Ayres—Oh, John, I've just learned that on the night of our party there's to be an eclipse of the moon.

Mr. Ayres—Good. We'll be able to get along without that high priced fiddler.

A DOLET.

"I don't know about one thing."

"What's that?"

"How can an army that is worth its salt have running expenses?"

THE REASON.

"I have a good name for my boat; I call her the Milkmaid."

"Why do you call her that?"

"Because she skims the water."

SIMEON FORD'S CLOSE SHAVE

Famous Hotel Man Almost Guilty of Forgetting Somewhat Familiar Acquaintance.

Simeon Ford was standing in the lobby of his hotel the other day when a tall, portly, well-dressed man entered and leaned over the cigar stand, carefully examining the wares within before making a purchase.

"I know that man," said Mr. Ford. "His face is perfectly familiar, but somehow I can't place him at the moment; and I'm supposed never to forget a guest after speaking to him once."

Mr. Ford was evidently annoyed. He stepped across to the cigar stand, passed the time of day with the portly, well-dressed man and came back again.

"Did you identify him?" asked the acquaintance to whom Mr. Ford had been speaking.

"Oh, yes. He's the barber who has shaved me every other day for eight years. But this is the first time I ever saw him with his white coat off and his black derby on."

AS THE ORDER CHANGETH

Old-Fashioned Drug Store Seems to Be No Longer a Necessity of Life in Modern Day.

"The old-fashioned drug store, where a man could obtain in a few moments all of the materials for a first-class sickness, to say nothing of suicide, seems to be passing," says one observer. "It has gone through various stages in its development from the herb to the postal card. The first druggist was equipped only with a bronze ax. He went out and cut up roots, boiled them over a fire and produced a combination hair restorer and physic. From this idea started all of the patent medicines."

"We are not as dependent on drug stores as we used to be, because we can die a thousand new ways every year. There are motorcycles to hit us between the curb and car tracks, and aeroplanes to drop on us.

The druggist who used to mortar and pestle his trade into steady customers now deals out froth and films

A SHORT CRUST.

Judge—Ah, I'll send you to the house of correction.—Boston Evening Transcript.

SHOULD BE STRAIGHT.

"Even the honey we get is adulterated."

"Why mention that particularly?"

"Well, you'd hardly expect anyone in the bee-line to be crooked, you know."

HIS HABIT.

"The judge has a manner strictly in keeping with his office."

"How do you mean?"

"It is sententious."

THE COMEDY OF IT.

"There is something funny about that legislative bill."

"To be sure there is. Hasn't it got a joker in it?"

ALSO FOND OF HER FEET.

She—Let's sit on the next one.

He—Why, I thought you were fond of dancing.

She—I am.

HER REVAL.

"What became of that falling machine you had?"

"Had to get rid of it; it made my wife jealous."

YOU CAN'T GET AWAY FROM IT.

"I thought your daughter received me rather stiffly."

"Ah! Then she did go to that tango lesson yesterday."—Judge.

HOMAGE.

"Should a man go down on his knees before a woman these days?"

"Seems to be considered the correct thing."

Cave Picnic.

Wednesday night some of the young men of the city gave a picnic at Campbell's Cave. The party drove out in buggies and stayed from 5 o'clock until 10. A lunch was served at the cave. In the party were Messrs. Marie Wright, S. die Buck, Anna Steele and Elouise Ginn, of Lexington; Alice Merritt, Ruth McChesney, Mary Danforth, and Miss Benton, of Arkansas; Messrs. John, Joseph, and Frank Stites, Edward Danforth, H. A. Long, W. T. Radford, Chas. Moorman and Logan Ireland.

Dance Monday Night.

Monday night at Hotel Latham the young men of the city will give a dance. On this occasion W. M. Warfield, who is just back from New York where he studied the latest dances under Mr. and Mrs. Castle and Mr. Maurice, will give a demonstration of the Maxixe, Hesitation, and one step. Mr. Warfield contemplates starting a class here sometime next week.

Lawn Party.

Miss Annie Waller was the hostess of a most enjoyable lawn party Thursday night, at the home of Mrs. Geo. Kolb, on South Main street. The yard was artistically hung with Japanese lanterns and the entertainment was in the form of progressive conversation. The party was given complimentary to Misses Sugg, of Henderson and Conley, of Corydon, who are visiting Miss Mary Campbell. Delightful refreshments were served.

The Nashville Banner for Wednesday evening says: Doctor Frank Charlemagne Bassett, President of the Kitty League, was in the stand yesterday. He was there for a purpose. He wanted to see how his protégé, Red Smith, was performing. Doc Bassett was right well pleased with the way the auburn-haired lad had performed, both behind the bat and with the wood, and was thinking of leaving in time to catch a train when he figured the sorrel topped reedder would be in the tenth. Doc tarried, and he saw Old Red strut to the plate with the winning tally in sight, and he saw the lanky Key Pertyman groove two and slip over three wide ones. Then he saw Red get a toe-hold and drive the ball over the fleet Tommy Long's dome, scoring Hemmingway with the tally that broke up the old melece.

Thursday the Trenton ball club defeated the Crofton forces in a 12 inning battle at Crofton. Manager Means, of the Hopkinsville Jelly-Beans, loaned outfielder Pursley to Crofton. Pursley played a good game in the outfield.

Friday afternoon the Gracey ball club played the Asylum team at the W. H. diamond. The Gracey lads drove over in buggies for the game.

BIG ROCK CRUMBLED

J. B. Sherrill Witnesses A Strange Occurrence on His Farm.

Yesterday afternoon on his farm near Lake Tandy, J. B. Sherrill, while walking on his premises heard a quite curious gurgling sound and followed up the sound through a dry river bed to where there was a large limestone rock lodged.

As the bubbling seemed to come from this rock Mr. Sherrill stopped and watched it for several minutes. While he stood examining the rock, he says, it started to crumbling and fell into innumerable little pieces. The cause of this phenomenon is not known, but Mr. Sherrill thinks perhaps it was disintegration from some natural conditions.

Mr. Sherrill frankly admits that he remained in the neighborhood of the rock but a very few minutes after the queer occurrence.

Misses Katherine Sugg, of Henderson, and Elizabeth Conley, of Corydon, have returned to their homes after a two weeks' visit to Miss Mary Campbell.

Mr. F. C. Clardy left yesterday for Dawson to spend a week.

Hon. John F. Bible has returned from a month's visit on the Lakes and in Canada. He was met there by his former partner and a nephew and they spent much of the time fishing. Mr. Bible reports that five of the fish he caught weighed in the aggregate 83 pounds.

TEACHING EWE TO OWN LAMB

One Method is to Take Skin From Dead Animal and Place Over One to Be Adopted.

(By E. M. NELSON, Oregon Experiment Station.)

Nearly every year one lamb or more dies, even out of the small flocks that run on the general farm. In such cases the ewes may be made step-mothers. But of course it will be necessary to get the ewe to own the strange lamb. This may be accomplished in either of the following ways:

The skin may be taken from the dead lamb and placed over the lamb to be adopted. Ewes recognize their lambs by the scent, and the odor of the lamb skin will make the ewe believe that the lamb is her own. The skin should be removed in about forty-eight hours, or sooner if necessary. The ewe may be caught and held every two or three hours for the new lamb to suck. In a few days, generally five or six, the ewe will own the lamb. Sprinkling a little of the ewe's milk over the lamb will be a great help in this method.

Duke of Northumberland.
Henry George Percy, seventh duke of Northumberland, is the largest landowner in England. His estates stretch almost from sea to sea, and he can ride 100 miles and not once leave his own domain. In appearance he is tall and thin, with reddish hair and flowing whiskers. To Americans it will be interesting to note that James Smithson, who bequeathed the sum of $500,000 to establish the Smithsonian Institution at Washington, was a great-uncle of the present duke of Northumberland.

WORKING ON REED'S STORE

Damages By Fire To Be Followed By General Remodeling.

J. D. Reed, proprietor of the New York Store, has started to remodeling his store room and is going to equip his store with entirely new furnishings.

New counters, shelves and flooring will be put in and the whole interior will be fitted up in the most up-to-date way. The work is expected to be completed by Oct. 1.

REELFOOT DRYING UP.

Effects of Long Drouth Are Plainly Visible.

Hickman, Ky., Aug. 7.—The long-continued drouth has not only had its effects on the ponds and springs throughout this section, but on Reelfoot Lake as well, the lake now being at the lowest mark ever known. It is now a long distance over the low water from Walnut Log out to good boating water on the lake, and thousands of acres of ground are now visible over different parts of the lake which have always been submerged. The creeks and bayous that have emptied into Reelfoot have been low all year, there having been no spring flood and so little rain since. This lake is about forty miles long and from one to seven miles wide ordinarily.

MUST HAVE BEEN SOME HEAT

Veracious Uncle Milligan Tells of Remarkable Experience in India of Which He Was a Witness.

Denis had just been ordered—with the rest of the regiment, of course—to "do his bit" of foreign service. He hastened round to Uncle Milligan, long since pensioned off, with the great news.

"India—eh?" chuckled the old warrior. "Well, you'll find it a bit more than warm, my boy."

"Is it very hot out there, uncle?"

"Hot? I should say so!"

"How hot is it?"

"Well, I couldn't rightly say how hot it was, Denis, but I remember once when I was out there we were having target practise. We were only firing at 800 yards, but not a single hit was registered by the markers. The adjutant was complaining, the sergeant-major was nearly off his head, but it was no good. Never a man could even hit the target."

"Then the 'Cease fire!' was blown, and the adjutant stamped off to the targets to see if the markers had gone to sleep. When he had gone about 500 yards we all laughed, 'cause he had fallen over. But what do you think had brought him down? Why, a mound of solid lead formed by the bullets that had melted in the sun!"—Answers, London.

MORE WILLS PROBATED

Yesterday a Busy Day In County Judge Knight's Court.

Yesterday morning in the County Court before Judge Knight the will of Mrs. Elizabeth Clark was read and offered for probate. One witness to the will was examined, after which the case was adjourned until Friday, August 14, when the hearing will be continued.

The will of W. N. Johnson was also probated and Lowe Johnson was appointed executor. No bond was required of Mr. Johnson.

Mrs. Ben W. Williams qualified as administratrix of Ben W. Williams, deceased. Mrs. Williams also qualified as the guardian of her children.

TRAINING THE TOMATO VINES

If Trimming Is Done In Midsummer the Yield of the Fruit Is Increased Fifty-Nine Per Cent.

Very few amateurs practise trimming tomato vines, but if this is done in midsummer the yield of the fruit is very greatly increased.

Experiments show that the increase due to trimming reached as high as 59 per cent and the gain by weight was very marked.

Of course, in milder climates this work should be done earlier. The plants were grown under ordinary field culture and they were started in the green house April 1, planted in the field June 1 and headed back July 24, August 8 and September 5.

At each trimming the leading branches were shortened about six inches, and most of the side shoots below the first clusters were removed, the others being shortened, and the sunlight thus freely admitted.

Training tomatoes on vines to run from five to ten feet high is becoming a common practise. This method increases the yield, as the sunlight reaches all of the fruit and makes picking much easier.

It is not difficult to train vines in this way.

TIME FOR SELECTING SEED

Best to Mark Hills While Potato Vines Are Vigorous and Productive—Avoid Runts.

(By M. A. COVERDELL.)

Don't wait until potato-digging time to select your seed potatoes—don't wait even until the vines are dead. If you do you are as liable to pick out large potatoes from a small, undeveloped hill as you are from a thrifty one.

Right now, while the vines are in full bloom and show which are vigorous and productive, is the time for marking the hills you will dig later for seed. Small sticks driven beside the choice hills serve this purpose very well.

This insures seed that will propagate sturdy plants next season. And remember, both large and small potatoes from a strong hill may be planted; but any size, either small or large from a puny hill—never!

Use the same care and judgment in the selection of your seed potatoes that you do in selecting other seeds and you will find it a little time very profitably spent.

The Germans have met with obstinate resistance in trying to cross Belgium to reach French territory. At the border town of Liege a bloody battle was fought, the Belgians reporting German losses at 8,000. The Germans waited for reinforcements and a second attack silenced two of the Belgian forts. The Belgians are expected to fall back to Namur, where a strong force is entrenched. France is mobilizing and every day's delay is fatal Germany.

Chance for Grannie.

A little English boy wrote to his grandmother from his boarding school, in time for her birthday. The letter ran thus: "Dear Grannie: I want to send you a birthday present, but I haven't any money. So if you will send me the money you always give me for Christmas now, I'll buy you something nice with it. I'm thinking of a pair of pistols a boy here will sell cheap or a gramophone that another boy has. I could use them until I come home."

EMPEROR TO TROOPS

Calls on All Germans to Defend Sacred Possessions.

Belin, Via London.—The emperor has issued an order to the German army and navy, in which he says:

"After 43 years of peace, I call upon all Germans capable of bearing arms. We have to defend our most sacred possessions in fatherland and home against the reckless assault of enemies on all sides of us."

"That means hard fighting. I am confident that the ancient warlike spirit still lives in the German people—that powerful warlike spirit which attacks the enemy wherever it finds him, regardless of cost, and which in the past has been the dread and terror of our enemies."

"I have confidence in you, German soldiers—in each and all of you. An ardent, indomitable will for victory is living in each and all of you. I know, if needed, each and all of you would die like heroes."

"Remember our great and glorious past and that you are Germans God bless you."

Failed To Hold.

Five persons charged with having participated in a raid of so-called "possum hunters" on a store of the Berier Coal Company, in Muhlenberg county, were discharged when arraigned for examination at Greenville.

BLAKEY ROOM

At Hospital Furnished By Mrs. Sarah Blakey.

Two errors occurred in the report of the list of rooms furnished in Jennie Stuart Memorial Hospital, that appeared in Tuesday's Kentuckian. One room reported as not furnished when the article was prepared should have been credited to the Westminster Presbyterian church, which was not reported as having furnished one. Also the room reported as having been furnished as a memorial room by Mrs. T. W. Blakey, was furnished by Mrs. Blakey's mother, Mrs. Sarah Blakey, who is still living.

Great care was exercised to get the correct information and we regret that seeming injustice should have been done to any one in the article, by a confusion of names or unavoidable mistakes.

The applicants for the position of County Road Engineer will be examined on the following subjects: Theory and practice of road building; drainage; use and care of road machinery; maintenance of earth and macedam roads, and upon such other subjects relating to road problems as the Commissioner of Public Roads may deem to be of vital importance.

The examination will be written, and when the papers are graded certificates will be issued to those successfully passing, which will entitle the holder to be considered by the County Judge as eligible for the appointment so far as his educational qualifications are concerned, but the County Judge will be responsible for determining the length of the service of his appointee and as to his general qualifications.

The Bottle Tree.

The Sterculias is a genus largely represented in Queensland, and widely distributed. To it belongs the bottle tree of the west of Queensland. Blacks eat the seeds of one of the species of the coast, and in the Philippines those of apparently a closely allied species are considered wholesome when roasted or boiled, though eaten in large quantities. The tree belongs to a good family, being related to the Theobroma (food of the gods), which supplies the world with cocoa and chocolate. When the fruit splits open it is a brilliant scarlet with orange-tinted interior; along the parted edges are the seeds, oval and black, covered with a rich purple bloom. The fruit, being tough and leathery, it remains on the tree a long time, forming a most effective display in the gloom of the jungle.

RESOLUTIONS

Evergreen Lodge No. 38, Knights of Pythias, For Past Grand Chancellor, Geo. C. Carter.

The Supreme Chancellor of the universe has again visited our Grand domain, and on the near approach of our annual session of the Grand Lodge Knights of Pythias of Kentucky, where we were looking forward to the pleasure of again associating ourselves with our Brothers and friends, death knocked at the door of the Grand lodge and called from labor to rest, our beloved Brother Past Grand Chancellor George C. Carter, who departed this life at a hospital in the city of Lexington, Ky., on Wednesday night, July 15, 1914, aged 48 years.

Brother Carter was one of the best beloved, and one of the most active Grand Chancellors of which this Grand Domain ever boasted, and his voice which was ever ready with words of cheer and good advice is now forever stilled, yet he lives in our memory, and the recollection of his wise counsel, and delightful presence will forever live in our hearts and lives.

However great his loss to us, it is nothing to compare with that of his devoted wife, and she has the unstinted sympathy of Evergreen Lodge No. 38, and each and every member thereof.

"Blest be the tie that binds
Our hearts to friends above,
Led by the star that shines
And leads to endless love."

Therefore be it resolved, That the Grand Lodge of Kentucky, has lost one of its highest officials, and one of its very best and most faithful members. A typical Kentucky gentleman and a true Pythian, whose slogan while Grand Chancellor was, "LET US HAVE MORE PYTHIANISM."

and this is largely responsible for the increased good fellowship existing in the order today. And to the Grand Chancellor and officers of the Grand Lodge, and to every subordinate lodge throughout this Grand domain, especially Latonia, No. 107, do we extend our heartfelt sympathy.

In commemoration of the esteem in which he was held, and as Chief Tribunal of the Grand Lodge, be it resolved that the Charter of Evergreen Lodge No. 38, be draped in mourning for a period of thirty days. That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of our lodge, that a copy be mailed his faithful wife, and that a copy be mailed to the Kentucky Pythian and to our city papers for publication.

TRENTON NEXT PLACE

Baptists Close Association Meeting After Discussing Reports.

Wednesday session closed the meeting of the Bethel Baptist Association at the South Union church at Church Hill. One item of especial importance, taken up at the session was the selection of Trenton as the place for the association to convene next year. There was an animated discussion of the report on colleges, participated in by Homer Felts and Rev. Mr. Seay for Bethel Male College and Dr. T. W. Blakey, Chas. M. Meacham, Rev. J. F. Griffith and Prof. W. S. Peterson for Bethel Female College. Both schools were reported to be in a prosperous condition.

Young Woman Killed.

Paducah, Ky., Aug. 7.—Myrtle H. It, aged twenty-three was thrown from her horse at Ragland while riding and fell upon her head, and her neck was broken by the impact. She died immediately.

Favorable Reports.

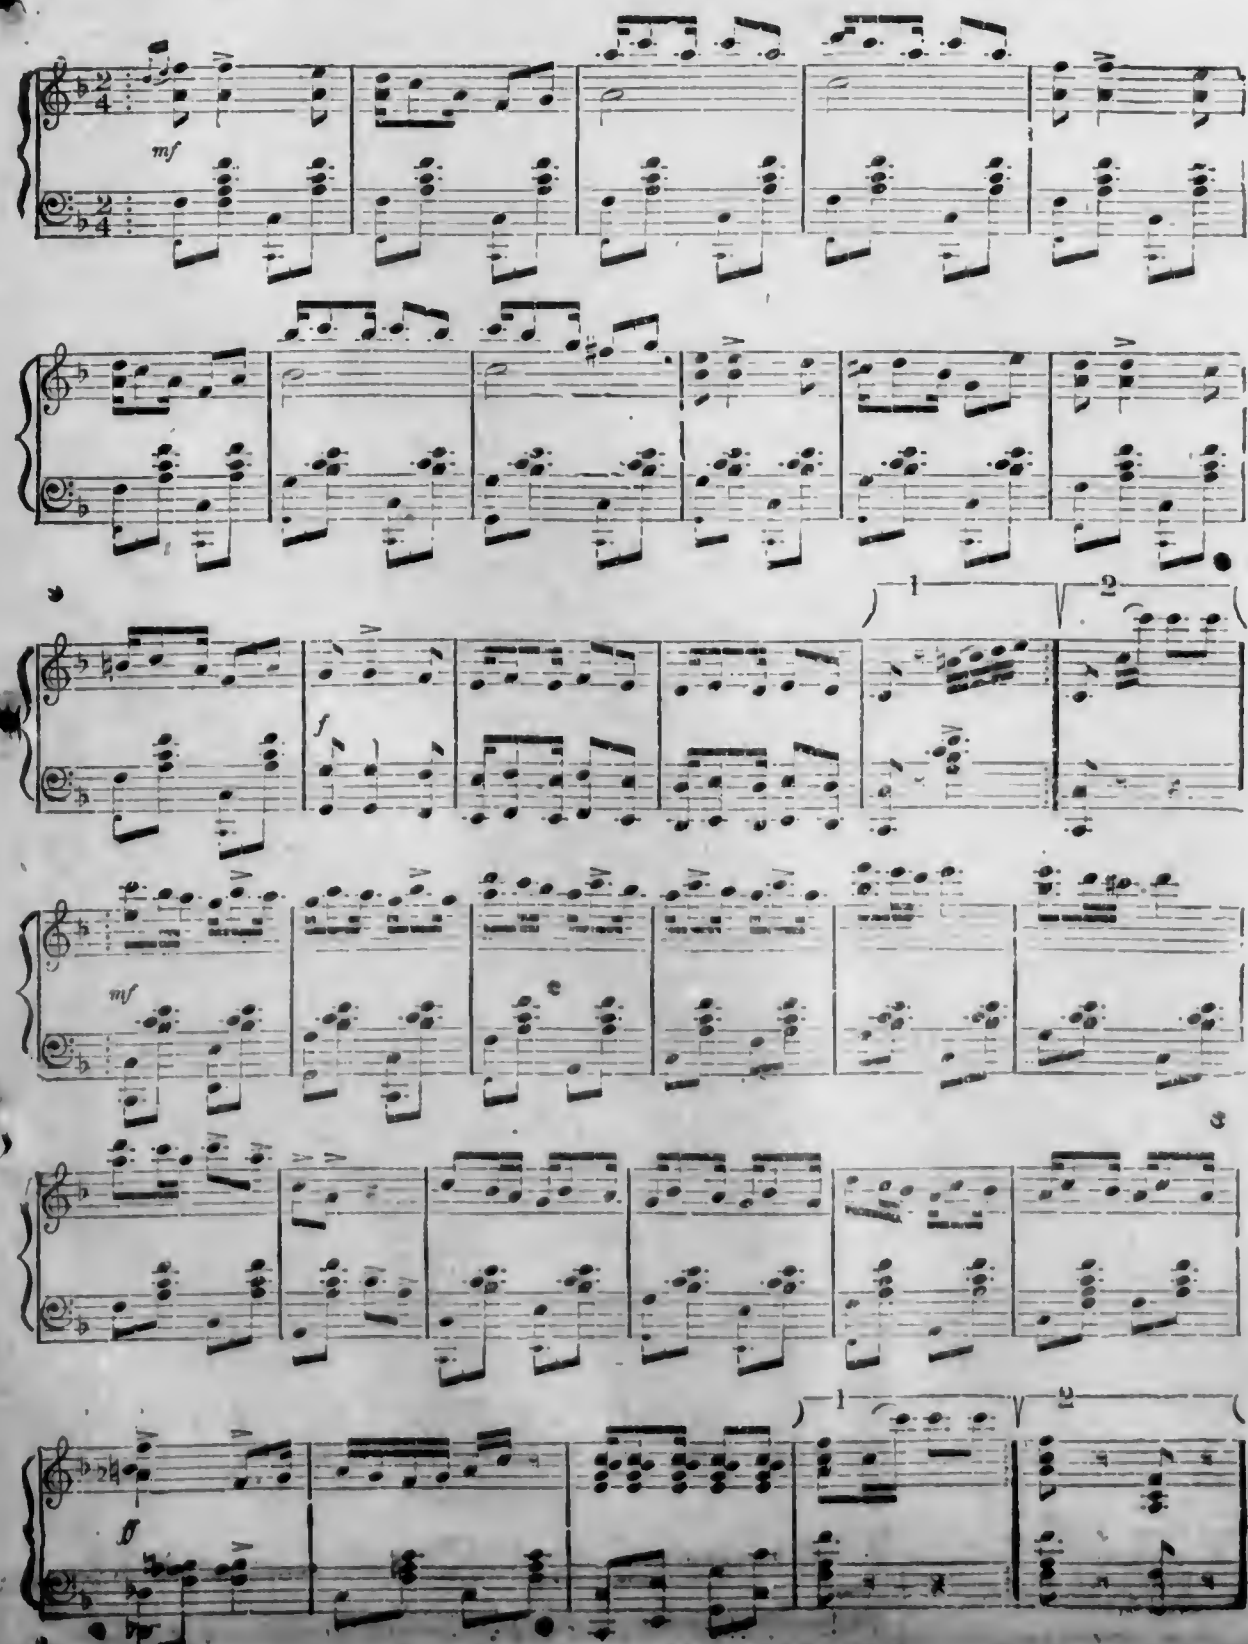

The Senate Committee on Banking and Currency reported favorably Wednesday on the nominations of Paul M. Warburg and Frederic A. Delano for the Federal Reserve Board.

Remains Of Mammoth Animal
Found Between Hickman
and Dyersburg.

Hickman, Ky., Aug. 5.—Dr. R. S. Parks has had in his possession and on exhibition in Lake county, the county adjoining this county, a large tooth weighing over two pounds, which has attracted much attention. This tooth was found near Lennox, several miles from Hickman on the new C. M. & G. railroad, by some timber men in an embankment where the water had washed the soil away, leaving the tooth bare. The tooth was hollow or a portion broken off. At the same place another tooth was found, which is in possession of a Mr. Childers at Dyersburg. This tooth weighs six pounds. Also a large leg bone was found, and the teeth and leg bone are, no doubt, those of some animal, which roamed over this country centuries ago, possibly the remains of a Mastodon. Dr. Parks is going to send the tooth in his possession to the Smithsonian Institute at Washington, and have it examined.

Unusual Offer To Our Readers.

For a limited time, and subject to withdrawal after 30 days, the well known publishing house of the J. B. Lippincott Company, Philadelphia founded in 1792, offers to the readers of this paper a 12 months' subscription to "Lippincott's Magazine" and a year's subscription to the Kentuckian, both for $3.00. This is the price of a twelve months' subscription to "Lippincott's" alone. Additional to obtain the very issue of this paper for a year, our readers will receive in "Lippincott's," 12 great complete novels by popular authors, 105 short stories, crisp, entertaining, original 45 timely articles from the pens of masters, and each month some excellent poems with the right sentiment, and "Walnuts and Wine," the most popular humor section in America. To obtain this extraordinary offer prompt action is necessary. Remit to J. B. Lippincott Company, Washington Square, Phila., Pa. Advertisement.

Bitulithic In Owensboro.

Bitulithic's rails will revolutionize the public thoroughfares of Owensboro. The people will be enthusiastic over them as soon as they have seen and tested them. In many cities they have been found more satisfactory and durable than asphalt, brick, wood block or any other kind. Atlantic City is paved with bitulithic from end to end, while Boston, Baltimore, St. Louis, Memphis, Nashville and Paducah have used it with great satisfaction.

During the year 1912 more than 4,830,000 square yards were laid in 150 cities, equivalent to 274 miles of thirty foot roadway. The total area of this character of street which has been completed in the thirteen years of its construction, including last year, was 28,669,466 yards, equal to 1,623 miles of roadway thirty foot wide between curbs. It has been given the severest of tests and has stood up to the requirements.

Mayor Hickman has made a close study of street paving and has reached the conclusion that it will not be a wise move to experiment with concrete. Brick is more expensive than bitulithic. Bitulithic streets can be constructed at about the same price as asphalt.

The model blocks are to be constructed for the purpose of testing the new law which gives the city the right to assess property owners for the construction of streets.—Owensboro Messenger.

American Hate In France.

Marquis de Castellane, in his Paris letter to the New York American, says: "Once upon a time everything in France came from England; not only our clothes, but also our soiled linen, which was sent across the channel to be washed and then returned to Paris with an immaculate whiteness. In other words, Paris was in the hands of the English and they decided what clothes should be worn and imposed that decision upon Europe. In due course came the silk hat and, willy-nilly, Parisians were obliged to adopt this awful form of headgear. America, by inventing more practical head coverings, has, to a certain extent, liberated the world from these hideous 'stovepipes,' which England was pleased to impose upon us, and we are profoundly grateful to the United States for this blessing."

IN THE TOILS OF THE LAW

Saul Stanley and Mrs. Claude Brown Located in Fairmount Washington.

The whereabouts of Saul Stanley and Mrs. Claude Brown, who deserted their husband and wife and eloped together several weeks ago were found out last week, and immediately following the information they were arrested by authorities in their haven of refuge and landed in jail. They were located at Fairmount, a small village in the State of Washington, on the coast side of the mountains.

Wednesday morning Mrs. Stanley and Mr. Claude Brown, the wife and husband of the elopers, accompanied by their attorney, C. C. Adams, left for that place armed with the necessary papers for securing a requisition, provided the federal government would not take hold of the case, which it has failed to do up to the present time. If a federal charge is preferred against Stanley he may be fined $5,000 and five years in the penitentiary. If the federal government fails to interest itself in the matter it is not known just what charge will be preferred.

Stanley and Mrs. Brown eloped several weeks ago. Stanley procured an automobile in Cincinnati and drove out to the home of Brown, who was a near neighbor, and she stole away from her husband while he slept. Previous to the elopement Stanley had placed a mortgage on his farm for about all it was worth. He had also sold off most of his stock and had borrowed small sums of money from friends, it is said Mrs. Stanley was left with the bag to hold, together with three children, one of whom is an infant in arms.

On the night of the elopement Mrs. Stanley attended a recital in Williamstown in which one of her children was a performer. Stanley told her he could not come with her as he had a business engagement that night.

A telegram was received from Stanley Wednesday morning by Jailer, J. D. Lillard. The telegram asked Lillard to see Mrs. Stanley and Claude Brown and tell them not to go to the expense of coming after him, that he would come home as soon as he was released and would make good in the way of turning over money he had. The telegram was shown to Mrs. Stanley. She declared that she knew her errant husband too well, and if he was released he would go the other way.

Mr. Adams was armed with all the necessary papers in the case when he started west, and it seems likely that Stanley and his paramour will be prosecuted in Washington on a charge of living in adultery. The penalty in that state for the offense is from one to five years in the penitentiary.

Suit for divorce has been filed by both Claude Brown and Mrs. Stanley against their respective spouses. Brown's suit was not filed until Tuesday before their departure. It is said that about $2,500 of the money which Stanley got away with is on deposit in the bank in Washington and has been attached.—Williamstown News.

Vera Cruz—A Really

Fine Blunder

No one pretends that the seizure of Vera Cruz was a premeditated policy. And yet we have somehow been able to carry the thing off as if we had intended to do it all along. We have cleaned up the town, spent a lot of good money in the stores, furnished lively military band music in the parks at night, and made ourselves quite popular, while all the time being near enough to worry the Huertistas by reason of the baffling mystery of our behavior, and thus overruling their concentration of mind upon the problem of defending themselves against Carranza and Vils. We have thus used an immense combined naval and military force to make an exceedingly small war, and have brought that war to a funny little end by something called a "pro-ocol" that was signed at Niagara Falls and that nobody has read or understood. Nevertheless, we are staying on at Vera Cruz, refusing to put withdrawal dates, as demanded, into the "protocol." We are still treating this unwarranted occupation of Mexico's territory as a sort of fulcrum for the possible further application of powerful leverage. Taking that town was an admirable mistake, promptly capitalized as if it had been a great stroke of statesmanship or strategy. Our staying at Vera Cruz, in other words, and our covering a long coast with our navy, were fundamentally showing two or three things. For example, (1) that the Yankees were, after all, not such bad people on close acquaintance, but had a remarkably fine way of clean-up and running a show town; (2) that the Yankees could act swiftly and unerringly when they decided to act at all, and that they were prepared, in case of need, to extend their occupation far beyond the town of Vera Cruz; while (3) it showed contending factions in Mexico, and the rest of the world combined, that Uncle Sam's "watchful waiting" was a matter of patience and judgment, rather than of timidity or bewilderment.—From "The Progress of the World," in the American Review of Reviews for August.

She (blushing sweetly)—Have you, really—of poor little me?

He—I have been looking forward to this meeting—

She (reassuringly)—How nice of you to say so.

He—With mingled hope and fear.
She (gently)—I am sure you need fear nothing.

He (more bravely)—Well, every man has one ruling passion in his life, and mine I think you must have guessed by this time.

She (archly)—I think I have.

He (eagerly)—Well, dear Miss Brooks, I came here tonight, wondering if I dare ask you—if I could persuade you—

She (tenderly but firmly)—I think you could persuade me to do anything.

He (radiantly)—How kind of you to say so. Well, then, will you—can

THE BLACK HOLE.

The black hole in the milky way is a small void space in the star-covered sky in the milky way, which by contrast stands out as an almost black spot. It is circular in form, and a degree or so in diameter. Its precise position in the heavens is right ascension 17 hours 56 minutes and south declination 27 degrees 51 minutes in the constellation Sagittarius. In it there are four rather bright stars which emphasize the blackness of the space in which they shine. Near to it there is another similar spot, but crescent in shape.
This void space is, however, less sharply defined, and possibly on that account does not appear so black as the larger and more conspicuous vacuity.

CONSIGNED TO PROPER PLACE

Editor's Intended Witticism Fell Flat
When Nature of Manuscript
Was Revealed.

George Ade, long before he became famous, was once associated in an humble way with a theater. He called one morning on the editor of a Sunday paper on a mission from a theatrical manager. Entering the editor's office, he began, "I have brought you this manuscript—" He got no further just then. The editor had glanced around and sized up the tall, timid youth as an amateur poet or novelist. "I see," he interrupted in an acid tone. "Well, just throw it in the waste-paper basket.
I'm very busy just now and haven't time to do it myself." George Ade obeyed his request calmly. Then he began again: "I have just come from the theater and the manuscript I have thrown in the waste-paper basket is your drama, which the manager asked me to return to you with thanks. He suggested that the proper place for it was with the waste paper."

CHEAPER TO BUILD TUNNELS

Plans for Throwing Bridges Across the Hudson May Be Abandoned Altogether.

The joint commission of the states of New York and New Jersey, which was primarily created to devise plans for bridging the Hudson, has been brought seriously to consider the alternative of tunnels under the river as highways for general traffic and travel by ordinary vehicles. This looks as if bridges over the Hudson, although talked of for many years,
may never materialize. The satisfactory experience already had with passenger tunnels should go a long way toward creating confidence in vehicular tunnels. But perhaps the most conclusive argument will be the fact that while the estimated cost of a bridge at Fifty-ninth street is $12-000,000, two tunnels, one for movement in each direction, could be constructed under the river from about Canal street, where they would be of the most use, for not over $11-000,000.—American Machinist.

IN THE LAND OF FREEDOM

Customs of Great United States Differ
From Those of Effete European Monarchies.

The Princess Parlaghy, condemning in New York the recent invasion of her Plaza suite by the possible, said:

"The way I have been treated reminds me of a story.

"A foreigner was being shown over New York by a native. The two men visited the downtown district. Here they waded ankle-deep in old newspaper and straw and wrapping paper, and every little while the sidewalk was so crowded with packing cases and boxes, and what not, that they had to climb and leap as if they were up among the Alps.

"We don't allow anything like this where I come from," panted the foreigner as he prepared to spring across a chasm between a mound of cotton bales and a stack of flour barrels.

"The native answered proudly, as he leaped from the top of a piano case and broke his ankle:

"I know you don't, but this, my jingo, is a free country."

NO PHYSICAL NEED FOR REST

Violinist Was There for Work, No Matter What the Intention of the Composer.

All college men know Harry Bennett, the orchestra leader. He can swing his men into an accompaniment for any college song that ever was written, on a moment's notice.
In the early days of his career he took charge of the music of a company of which the once famous
"Fatty" Stewart was the head, engaging his orchestra in the towns where he showed. In North Adams the musicians were employees of the foundry, amateurs, but fully equal to almost anything. For Stewart's entrance there were blasts from the horns, with the rest of the orchestra silent. At the rehearsal the horns sounded, but the first violin from the bandy kept right on, notwithstanding.

"Here, you," said Bennett, "you've got four bars of rest there."

"That's all right, mister," said the violinist, sawing away, "I ain't tired."

ANCIENT ISRAELITE CAPITAL.

An Austrian theological professor, Dr. Ernest Sellin, engaged in the excavation work in Palestine, reports that he has discovered in the hill of Bahutia, in Samaria, the foundations of the ancient Israelite capital, Shechem.

Although the professor was only able to work less than three weeks, he succeeded in uncovering some very interesting objects connected with the various periods of the city's history—Canaanite, late Israelite and Hellenic. Amongst them are arrows, rings, pitchers and jugs, and other household utensils, chiefly made of silver or bronze.

THE ONLY WAY.

"You will have to have a policeman at the intellectual debate you're planning."

"What do we want a policeman for?"

"To arrest the audience's attention."

PATHETIC CASE.

"Auntie, did you ever get a proposal?"

"Once, dear. A gentleman asked me to marry him over the telephone.

But he had the wrong number."

THE RULING PASSION.

Telegraph Operator—The message
shouldn't have ten words.

Fair Sander—But I can add a postscript, can't I?

REALLY IMPORTANT.

"He seems to be a man of importance in the community."

"He is. Two-thirds of the citizens have sworn to shoot him."

FRANK OPINION.

"How did you enjoy my last song?" he asked.

"Why, I enjoyed it because it was your last," was his reply.

SOME WEIGHT.

Mrs. Beason—I on seem to have a great weight on your mind, John.

Mr. Bacon—Yes, I'm thinking of those black eyes you baked yesterday.

MEN IN MIND IN HOPKINSVILLE

People of Prominence In The Pearl City of The Penny-royal.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH NO. 45.

Ovid Keach, The Veteran Furniture Dealer, And His Successful Career.

Ovid Keach, the veteran furniture man, is just rounding out his twentieth year as a successful business man of Hopkinsville. During that period he has established three business enterprises that have made distinct successes.

Mr. Keach was born on a farm in Henderson county, March 10, 1853, and followed farming until 1894, when he came to Hopkinsville to open an agency for the Metropolitan Insurance Co. He made money in this business and four years later saw an opening in a mercantile line that looked promising and quit the insurance field and opened the furniture house of Keach & Co. One of his sons was associated with him and as the business grew others were taken into it. After ten years of growth, the firm having outgrown its old quarters, moved to Main street and the business was incorporated on a large scale. In six years it reached such proportions that the subject of this sketch disposed of his interests and started anew on a smaller scale, buying out a competitor and adding a line of stoves and ranges to the furniture business. He formed a partnership last April with Chief E. P. Fears, of the Hopkinsville Fire Department, and under the firm name of Keach & Fears, they are rapidly enlarging the new business, which is on Ninth street, near the postoffice.

Mr. Keach deserves to rank with the most successful business men in the city, when the fact is considered that he started without previous training and with but little capital. He revolutionized the furniture trade of Hopkinsville and found patrons over a wide scope of country. He has invested his earnings in real estate and has several valuable pieces of property in the residence sections of the city.

He has done much to build up the city and develop its commercial interests during the last 20 years and has a large number of patrons who have remained with him for years, attracted by his genial personality and straight-forward business methods. He is not only a good business man himself, but has given to the city sons who are successful young merchants of increasing prominence in commercial circles.

Quick Adjustment.

Aug. 5th 1914.

Messrs Locker & Draper,
Dear Sirs:
We desire to thank you for the very prompt and satisfactory adjustment of our lightning loss, which occurred on 3d instant. We heartily recommend you, and the Continental Insurance Co. to the insuring public. The Company paid us for eleven mules in accordance with the policy, besides hay, grain, harness and farming utensils.

USE FOR OLD SCRAP LUMBER

It is Profitable to Take Good Care of the Little Pigs When Butcher's Stuff is High.

(By J. W. GRIFFIN.)

One of the best ways to use scrap lumber is to build hog houses out of it. If there is no lumber lying around in the way it will pay to buy new, even at the present high prices, and build the hog houses.

If it pays to take care of the little pigs when the butcher's stuff is bringing four and five cents a pound, it is doubly profitable when they are eight or ten cents.

We have ten Duroc Jersey brood sows and ten colony houses, built and fenced off, as shown in the drawing.

These houses were built out of lumber that came out of an old frame building once used as a saw mill.

We bought the old mill, the frame of which was 33 feet wide, 100 feet long and two stories high; all the framing timbers were as good as when put in the building. The scrap lumber we worked into the hog houses and the frame and the best lumber we used in building an up-to-date feed barn.

Colony Hog House.

Keep a Record.

Get your record book properly headed, then as each sow farrows write down how many and what kind of pigs she has. Watch them, see how many live and record this also. Then when another winter comes you will know which sows you want to keep and which you want to sell.

Source of Profit.

There never was a better profit for the young man who wants to use brains with muscle than now in the breeding of profitable dairy cows. He should not start unless he is determined to stick to it as a business for many years.

Some Essentials.

The essentials of success in farming seem to be: Good soil well maintained, good crops, the result of good seed and good tillage. Certainly expense must be as low as is consistent with doing these things. All of which are necessary to profitable farming.

Canada Field Peas.

Canada field peas, when planted alone, gave better results than when sown with oats in some Texas experiments, yielding 1.94 tons per acre.

Substitute for Lawn Mower.

A few sheep make an excellent substitute for a lawn mower where one is too busy to use the latter.

PENNYROYAL APARTMENTS

Finest Building in City Soon To Be Completed And Opened.

During the past few weeks the work on the Pennyroyal Apartment Building, on South Main street, has been going on rapidly and in a short time the work is expected to be entirely completed and the building ready for occupancy. The building is an exceptionally handsome one of modern design and structure. It will be furnished and equipped in the most modern way and patterned on the order of the apartments in the larger cities. At first it was intended for this building to be used as an office building, but later it was decided best to change these plans and finish it as an apartment house.

It is a four story building of hydraulic pressed brick of a light gray color, trimmed with white stone. The first floor will be fitted up for offices, on the north side. On the south side there will be a cafe, a lobby and a kitchen. A spacious corridor will extend entirely through the building between the offices and the cafe, giving access to the public baths and toilet rooms in the rear.

The three upper floors are arranged for four apartments on each floor. All these are to be completely fitted up with baths, having hot and cold water and fuel, gas connections, steam heat, electric lights, a public waiting room on each floor, and public and private corridors to all entrances to apartments.

The building will be equipped with an electric passenger elevator with all modern safety appliances. The elevator will accommodate twelve passengers at a time and travel at the rate of 125 feet a minute. It will have an attractive appearance on the inside and has side panel mirrors on the sides. The elevator will travel from the first floor to the roof, giving everyone passage to the beautiful roof garden which is to be one of the features of the building. Stairways also connect all the floors.

The fire escapes at the rear of the building will be built of steel extending from the roof with grill platforms at each floor, placed at the junction of the public corridors. Each floor, too, is equipped with a two-inch stand pipe with fire hose connections, as a further protection against fire.

The interior trim is to be of red gum with birch doors all stained dark mahogany, with dull finish. The lobby and vestibule floors will be of terrazzo with borders; the rest of the first floor will be of Atlas white with cement borders; all the other floors are of Southern pine. The side, walls, and ceilings through the building will be painted three coats of flat wall finish.

W. R. Gatlin is the architect who designed the building. The general contracting is done by the Forbes Manufacturing Co., Inc. The building committee is made up of, A. D. Noe, Sr., Dr. T. W. Blakey and L. N. Parks.

Whale's Thick Hide.

The whale has the thickest hide of any living creature. Its hide in places attains a thickness of fully two feet.

FAMILY REUNION

Of Barkers and Meriwethers August 12, At Dunbar's Cave.

The Meriwether and Barker families, which are largely represented in this county, will hold their annual reunion at Dunbar's Cave, near Clarksville, August 12.

The committee in charge, W. D. Meriwether, Sr., R. B. Meriwether and Robt. Snyder, in a card issued say: "It is desired to make this affair the greatest success yet attained. The largest attendance and the best dinner will help accomplish this end. Bring all the family and one of those well stocked baskets that have made our reunions famous."

Germany's First Set Back.

Germany, in pushing its advance through Belgium Wednesday met with strong opposition around Liege, where the Belgian forces, according to official advices reaching Brussels, have repulsed the German army of the Meuse under Gen. Von Emmich. The Germans are reported to have lost several thousand in killed and wounded. Field Marshal Kitchener has been appointed Secretary of State for War in the British Cabinet and will have under his direction the military campaign against Germany. The French troops have joined the Belgians in opposing the progress of Germany through Belgium, and it is reported that possibly Great Britain may send reinforcements.

The President of the United States has proffered his services as mediator to the European nations at war.

The German ambassador will leave England Thursday by dispatch boat. Both at St. Petersburg and Berlin the German and Russian embassies, respectively, have been attacked by mobs.

The capture of a number of German steamers by the British is reported, and the British cruiser Amphion has sunk the Hamburg-American Line steamer Koenig Luise.

Russian frontier patrols have penetrated ten miles into Germany. Travelers returning from the North Sea bring word that no hostile warships were to be seen.

Measures for the relief of the 100,000 Americans abroad have been perfected. President Wilson has signed the bill appropriating $2,500,000 in gold to be sent abroad. The cruiser Tennessee will leave with this amount and $5,000,000 more sent by bankers to-night. Plans are now being perfected for chartering a fleet of neutral vessels to bring Americans home.

David Kincheloe.

Chosen to succeed Hon. A. O. Stanley for Congress in the Second District, Hon. David H. Kincheloe, of Hopkins, the Democratic nominee, will be heard from in the halls of the National House. The district is safely Democratic, and Mr. Kincheloe's opponent, Judge J. W. Hanson, was the first to congratulate him on his victory. He will probably be the youngest member of the Kentucky delegation, but his reputation is a student and an orator will precede him, and it will not be long before he is heard from. —Bowling Green Messenger.

TWO WILLS PROBATED

Last Testaments of Mrs. Lucy Summers and Mr. A. B. Croft.

The wills of Mrs. Lucy Summers and of A. B. Croft have been admitted to probate in county court. Mrs. Summer's will is dated January 4, 1914, and the witnesses are Misses Lena Lacy and Evelyn Perkins. She leaves her entire property to be divided equally between her two children, Miss Frances Summers, and the son and daughter are also named as executors of the will.

The will also provides that the property be divided in this way. The Spring Hill farm of 590 1/2 acres, which adjoins the place now occupied by Will Summers, shall go to him, and the home place on the corner of Virginia and Fourteenth street shall go to Miss Summers. It is provided that each beneficiary select two appraisers. These four representatives are to value the farm and residence and arrive at a settlement and a just division of the estate, share and share alike. The only thing exempted in this is the household goods, which becomes the property of Miss Summers. After the division has been made if either has more than an equal share is to be made up to the other.

Mr. Croft's will is dated December 5, 1908. He leaves all of his property to his widow, Mrs. M. J. Croft, and daughter Mrs. Ed Williams, of Morton's Gap.

The only specific bequest made is that Mrs. Williams shall have a one-half interest in the Gant Building, at Elkton, for her life time with the right to sell if she desires. But should she die without children and still owning the building it is to go to the children of the sisters and brothers of the deceased.

It is positively stated that the estate is to be shared equally and Mrs. Croft is named as executrix, but she is requested to advise with William Keith, of Crofton, in all matters of importance.

GREEN PEPPERS ARE POPULAR

There Are Numerous Varieties and They Have Been Greatly Improved in Recent Years.

Green peppers are fine. They can be grown on any good garden soil, but should not be put out till the ground is warm. The varieties of peppers unlike the egg-plant are numerous, and therefore have been greatly improved of late years.

The Upright Sweet Salad is a fine pepper. It is bright scarlet in color, mild and sweet.

Magnum Dulce is by far the largest pepper in cultivation, and the most prolific; no other variety gives such large specimens. It is very sweet and perfectly reliable.

Ruby King is one of the standards and has for many years been deserving of first place among the varieties of peppers, but in many respects it is not equal to the above described kinds.

Chinese plant is very large, but not as prolific as some of the other large varieties.

B. F. COLLEGE REUNION

Grand Homecoming of Graduates And Former Students.

WILL BE SEPTEMBER 30, 1914

Alumnae Association In Charge And Great Time Planned.

Since the new President, Prof. W. S. Peterson, has taken charge, the interest and enthusiasm in Bethel College, on the part of its patrons, seems to be growing greater every day. Already nearly fifty young ladies have reserved rooms and will enter the boarding department of Bethel this year and present prospects indicate that this year will be the best in its history.

In order to help arouse sentiment in favor of the college, the former students, the Alumnae Association of Bethel College, are planning a big Homecoming Day during the County Fair. This will be held on Wednesday Sept. 30. An interesting and fitting program is being planned and a big dinner will be served on the grounds.

Every effort will be made to have as many of the alumnae as possible present, and the committee in charge is trying to get in touch with every girl now living who has graduated at Bethel College from the first years of its history to the session just closed. The Homecoming, while being arranged by the graduates, will be participated in by all former students, whether they were graduates or not. There have been 268 graduates, but the students have run into thousand during the 61 years the college has been in existence. A program will be announced later.

IN WAR ZONE

Hopkinsville Merchant May Be Caught In European Blockade.

Information has been received that Mr. James H. Anderson and his father Mr. S. W. Anderson are in the old world and were booked for passage on a German steamer from Gibraltar Aug. 5. Inasmuch as Mr. Anderson is directly in that part of Europe in which the greater part of the fighting is being staged, it is feared that he may not be able to reach home for many weeks yet.

In Prohibition County.

Mrs. Lucy Filtner, of Bumpus Mills, found a larger garter snake in her yard a few days ago. She started toward the snake to kill it and was surprised to see the snake open its mouth and a large number of young snakes run into its mouth. She killed the snake and found 54 young ones measuring from 8 to 9 inches. —Cadiz Record.

NAPOLEON SAYS: "An Army Moves on its Belly"

Austria, Servia, Russia, Germany and France, the nations which grow more than one-half of the world's supply of wheat, have called 5,000,000 men from the harvest field to the battle ground. The millions of men who last year were producers of wheat will this year be consumers of bread.

Wheat prices are soaring on the Exchange. December options are quoted at 98c, and the day of Dollar Wheat is near at hand.

Europe's misfortune is America's opportunity, and while their farmers fight we must increase our yields and reap the profit. Every bushel of wheat we add to our 1915 crop will add a dollar to the farmer's bank account.

Each of the 5,000,000 farmers of America must feed a soldier. That means that the yield of each acre must be increased by 10 bushels of wheat. It can be done by increasing the use of fertilizer 100 pounds per acre, and the result will be millions of dollars added to the bank accounts of our farmers and our merchants.

The year of opportunity has come and he will profit most who chooses the best. GLOBE FERTILIZER is the key to this opportunity. It is the fertilizer that will bring you and your customers the biggest yields at the least expense. It is the brand that supplies the crop with the proper food at every stage of its growth. It is The All Plant Food Fertilizer.

Your opportunity to increase the prosperity of your county—to increase your fertilizer business—to boost the business of your town in every line—and to add to your profits is here. See that every farmer uses 100 pounds per acre more GLOBE FERTILIZER than he has used before and there will be an increase of $10.00 per acre for each acre in wheat.

Let's reap the profits while Europe fights.
